

Saudi G20 Presidency Led the Way to Shape A Better World

Riyadh, Kingdom of Saudi Arabia, November 21, 2020

Saudi Arabia has the youngest population in the G20 and it is a country undertaking a huge economic and social transformation for its people. With a desire for action and progress under its Presidency, the Kingdom aims to Realize Opportunities of the 21st Century for All. Working with G20 countries, international partners, civil society, businesses and communities around the world, the Saudi Presidency will lay the foundations to shaping a better world.

In ensuring the world is better prepared for future pandemics, the Saudi G20 Presidency and G20 members are committed towards fostering conservation and sustainability and protecting our natural resources. The G20 countries are promoting a cleaner, smarter and more sustainable approach for the energy industry, securing the food and water supply, jobs and the future of vulnerable groups. Under the Saudi G20 Presidency, G20 members are working towards promoting access to financial opportunities for all by agreeing on ways to finance sustainable development goals.

The Saudi G20 Presidency believes a better future can be achieved if the world works together to promote a recovery focus on people and on our planet. The G20 is promoting the access to opportunities for all, especially women and youth, and building a future that protects our land, our oceans, our natural resources. The leaders of the G20 came together to give hope, to agree on a way forward that ensures we protect the people and build a better future.

The economic recovery plan is strongly sustained on the G20 action plan based on protecting lives; safeguarding people's jobs and incomes; restoring confidence, preserving financial stability, reviving growth and recovering stronger; minimizing disruptions to global supply chains; providing help to all countries in need of assistance; and coordinating on public health and financial measures.

As a promoter of sustainability, equality, inclusiveness, fair-rules based economy and as an action-oriented leader, the Saudi Leadership aims to be remembered as a contributor for shaping a better world.
